Read some books that inspire you. These books can be fiction and non-fiction. Write a letter to the author or the person the book is written about. In the letter write about why you are inspired by them. 	Can you learn how to say and write 'hope' in 7 languages? Can you teach this to someone else? 	Create a picture inspired by William Morris. Find flowers from your garden or pictures from the internet to create a pattern. Think about which colours complement each other. 	Explore what the Mars Buggy is. Create a plan for your own Mars Buggy model. You need to label this model - How heavy this buggy will be - The length of each side - How big the Mars buggy will be - Think about the dimensions of the buggy. Now use the plan you have created can you make the buggy using recycled items at home.

Create a poster explaining: - Who the 10 Gurus are - The main festivals in Sikhism - what food Sikhs would eat Use the internet to find this information. 	Research different websites. Create a mind map of the different features the websites have. Design your website. - What will your website be about - What tabs will you have on your website? Think about: - The colours used - The language used	Can you cook a dish and write a recipe inspired by the food Sikhs would eat? 	One of our character muscle is creativity. Can you create a magic potion to help build hope during this difficult time? You can add ANY ingredients in your recipe for this magic potion. Write instructions for your magic potion!

Dear Parent/Carer,
Here are your child's home learning activities. The teaching staff have selected some activities that will support your child with their learning and encourage them to become independent learners. Please make time to choose and do some of these activities with your child. We are always interested to see and hear what home learning activities you have done, so make sure you share your work with the rest of the class!
